

THEY WANT STREETS.

LEE-DISTRICT PEOPLE APPEAL TO THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Talk of Asking to Be Again Put in the County—Contract for the New Central school Awarded.

The Council Committee on Finance held another called meeting in the Chancery Court room yesterday afternoon. The general matters considered were the complaints of persons as to license taxation and the application of the properties in the annexed portion of Lee District for street improvements. There were present a delegation of property owners from the newly-organized section. Captain John A. Coke was the spokesman. He began by saying that while his people recognized the strained circumstances of the city at present, they had done their best to improve its territory. Captain Coke referred to the conditions of the annexed portion of the city that had been made available to the Finance Committee before any hearing could be given by the Supreme Court of Appeals, a half a mile up the work upon the city where any part of it was chargeable against property owners.

$100,000 IN TAXES.

The real estate owners in the district, who were paring three or four times as much taxes as before their property was brought within the city limits, in the city obtained a judgment of $100,000, and this year a similar suit was paid into the city treasury. In annexation Richmond was enabled to issue additional bonds amounting to $100,000, and had for this reason the largest amount of bonded indebtedness.

Captain Coke's opinion that the city should lay aside the question of the tax on the property owners and give the right to the property-owners for single assessments, and to consider that the money would have to be expended on grading and paving the streets in Lee District, and that if this amount were not received in taxes from Lee District when the taxes of 1893 have ended.

TO BUILD UP RICHMOND.

Continuing his remarks upon this question Captain Coke said that, assuming that the amount of taxes to be paid by the property-owners would be paid by the city, the amount would have to be paid by the city.

The ladies agreed to send it outside of the city whenever it was wanted. Mrs. Henry Taylor will have charge of the journal, and among other articles it will contain news of the Medical College of Virginia, and upon the resignation of Dr. McLean, and Dr. C. C. Moore, Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-

seum and Fortune Table.

A meeting of the General Committee of the Memorial Bazaar was held yesterday afternoon at the old Courthouse.

Dr. C. C. Moore, president of the Bazaar, and Dr. E. A. Skinner, Supreme-Guide Henry Goodwin, and Supreme-Treasurer E. A. Skinner—a banquet at Zimmerman's—Mr. A. F. Howell, editor of the "Daily Press"—and Dr. Charles Harwood presided, the menu was excellent, and the speeches were happy, triumphant, and encouraging. Mayor Elyson's address of welcome was very cordial and was responded to by Mr. Irvine and others.

GENERAL MENTION.

Mr. Stoopal Chapatian, who was appointed Postmaster at Centralia, in Chesa-

peck, has entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office.

Bishop Randolph presided at the Memorial service. Funeral night and conference of the members.

Mr. James M. Jewett and bride (one Ballou) have returned home. Mrs. Jewett has been quite sick, but is very much better.

Mr. Pat Winslow, tax collector for the Middlesex district, was visiting the property of Swanson's yesterday.

Mrs. L. V. Roe, of Chesterfield, in visiting her sister, Mrs. S. D. Bruce on Bainbridge Street, said the surgeon was visiting Mrs. J. T. Jewett, on Bainbridge Street.

In addition to the ladies and gentlemen mentioned above sixty or more persons in evening dress, who were the guests of the organization, witnessed the dance.

MEETING OF THE BAZAAR LADIES.

Colonel Jones Tender His Services—Mus-